Welcome

English at Cambridge International AS & A Level encourages learners to explore their subject in depth. The syllabus has been designed, in consultation with teachers and universities, to help learners develop not only subject knowledge, but also a strong understanding of some of the key concepts that are critical to mastering the subject.

All our syllabuses are reviewed and updated regularly so that they reflect the latest thinking of international experts and practitioners, and take account of the different national contexts in which they are taught. Consultation is an important part of the way we develop our syllabuses.

Consulting teachers

Teachers at Cambridge schools worldwide help us to shape our Cambridge International AS & A Level syllabuses. The feedback contributes to the development of syllabus content, assessments and support materials. Consulting teachers ensures that our materials are designed carefully around their needs and the needs of their learners.

Consulting universities

Like teachers, universities help to shape our Cambridge International AS & A Level syllabuses. We consult with leading higher education institutions to make sure the syllabuses encourage learners to get a firm grasp of the subject's key concepts and develop the skills necessary for success at university.

Key concepts

Key concepts are essential ideas, theories, principles or mental tools that help learners to develop a deep understanding of their subject and make links between the different topics. The key concepts that this syllabus is designed to develop are detailed on page [7].

Teacher support

Our comprehensive teacher support will help you deliver the syllabus confidently and effectively. The support includes resources for teaching and learning as well as exam preparation. The teaching support package helps teachers integrate the key concepts into their teaching, showing how they fit into the overall syllabus and suggesting ways to teach them with each topic. Learn more on page [x].

“ Cambridge International AS & A Levels prepare students well for university because they've learnt to go into a subject in considerable depth. There's that ability to really understand the depth and richness and the detail of a subject. It's a wonderful preparation for what they are going to face at university. ”

Christoph Guttentag, Dean of Undergraduate Admissions, Duke University, USA

Why Choose Cambridge International Examinations?

Cambridge International Examinations prepares school students for life, helping them develop an informed curiosity and a lasting passion for learning. We are part of Cambridge Assessment, a department of the University of Cambridge.

Our international qualifications are recognised by the world's best universities and employers, giving students a wide range of options in their education and career. As a not-for-profit organisation, we devote our resources to delivering high-quality educational programmes that can unlock learners' potential.

Our programmes and qualifications set the global standard for international education. They are created by subject experts, rooted in academic rigour and reflect the latest educational research. They provide a strong platform for learners to progress from one stage to the next, and are well supported by teaching and learning resources.

Every year, nearly a million Cambridge learners from 10 000 schools in 160 countries prepare for their future with an international education from Cambridge.

Cambridge learners

Our mission is to provide educational benefit through provision of international programmes and qualifications for school education and to be the world leader in this field. Together with schools, we develop Cambridge learners who are:

- confident in working with information and ideas – their own and those of others
- responsible for themselves, responsive to and respectful of others
- reflective as learners, developing their ability to learn
- innovative and equipped for new and future challenges
- engaged intellectually and socially ready to make a difference.

Why Cambridge International AS & A Levels?

Cambridge International AS & A Levels are international in outlook, but retain a local relevance. The syllabuses provide opportunities for contextualised learning and the content has been created to suit a wide variety of schools, avoid cultural bias and develop essential lifelong skills, including creative thinking and problem-solving.

Our aim is to balance knowledge, understanding and skills in our qualifications to enable students to become effective learners and to provide a solid foundation for their continuing educational journey. Cambridge International AS & A Levels give learners building blocks for an individualised curriculum that develops their knowledge, understanding and skills.

Cambridge International AS & A Level curricula are flexible. It is possible to offer almost any combination from a wide range of subjects. Cambridge International A Level is typically a two-year course, and Cambridge International AS Level is typically one year. Some subjects can be started as a Cambridge International AS Level and extended to a Cambridge International A Level.

There are three possible assessment approaches for Cambridge International AS & A Level:

Every year thousands of learners with Cambridge International AS & A Levels gain places at leading universities worldwide. Cambridge International AS & A Levels are accepted and valued by top universities around the world including those in the UK, US (including Ivy League universities), European nations, Australia, Canada and New Zealand. Learners should check the university website for specific entry requirements before applying.

Did you know?

In some countries universities accept Cambridge International AS Levels in their own right as qualifications counting towards entry to courses in the same or other related subjects. Many learners who take Cambridge International AS Levels also choose to progress to Cambridge International A Level.

Why Cambridge International AS & A Level English Language?

Cambridge International AS & A Level English Language is accepted by universities and employers as proof of knowledge and understanding.

About the syllabus

Successful English Language learners develop an understanding and enjoyment of a wide variety of different texts, both written and spoken. They gain pleasure and awareness of how language works in different ways, for different purposes and for different audiences. In addition, they gain skills for life, including:

- the ability to appreciate how different texts are shaped by their language and style
- skills in creating their own imaginative and persuasive writing for different purposes and audiences
- skills in researching, selecting and shaping information from different sources
- the ability to analyse and compare written and spoken texts in close detail.

Key concepts

Of the concepts that are important to the study of English Language at this level, we have identified the following as key. As a teacher, you will refer to these concepts, which can serve as tools to understand both familiar and unfamiliar written and spoken texts. The Scheme of Work suggests how these concepts can help with teaching.

- When we say the characteristics of written and spoken texts, we are referring to the ways in which constructed and spontaneous language are either consciously or unconsciously formed and shaped by different means for a variety of purposes and effects.
- Structure refers to the organisation of a text or passage, its shape and development and how this contributes to meaning and effect: for example, the way in which a written passage or spoken language may develop using different techniques and moods.
- Context refers to the relationship between a text and its background – for example, historical, social, cultural, and economic – and the ways in which it may influence the meaning and interpretation of a particular extract.
- By the features of imaginative writing, we mean the ingredients which may help to form different types of creative responses: for example, these may include aspects of structure (such as the opening to a short story) and particular linguistic skills and forms of expression (for example, establishing character and motivation; varying sentence structures; selecting effective vocabulary for different purposes).
- The features of persuasive and argumentative writing encompass the different techniques and devices employed in conveying points of view, exemplification and cohesive reasoning in different formats (for example, newspaper articles, magazine features, letters, diaries, scripted speeches) for different types of audiences (such as those based on age or interest).
- The features of spontaneous speech include: their differences to shaped and scripted speeches and dialogue; the characteristics which mark spontaneous speech out (for example, hesitation, fillers, use of non-standard grammar) as being unrehearsed.
- Language acquisition refers here to the ways in which children and teenagers learn to recognise, understand and construct language at different times in their development. It also explores how these processes shape their different uses of both written and spoken language as they grow.

- When we refer to spoken language and social groups, we mean the ways in which different groups (defined, for example, by gender, occupation, age or culture) construct language (with its own terms, sounds, vocabulary and expression) to form a distinct identity of their own (for example, to include or exclude others or to create power and status).
- Issues raised by global English refer to different debates about and reactions and attitudes to the rise of English as an 'international' means of communication, its cultural effects, the varieties of English created, its impact on local languages in terms of speech and writing and the threat it may pose to such languages.

Why Cambridge International AS & A Level Literature in English?

Cambridge International AS & A Level Literature in English is accepted by universities and employers as proof of knowledge and understanding.

About the syllabus

Successful Literature in English learners develop a lifelong understanding and enjoyment of literary texts, and, importantly, gain a range of essential skills, including:

- the ability to write clearly and effectively
- skills in developing arguments
- skills in researching and managing information
- the ability to analyse complex texts in different forms and styles.

Key concepts

The key concepts set out below offer ways to approach the study of Cambridge International AS & A Level Literature in English. The teaching support package helps teachers integrate the key concepts into their teaching. See page 11 for more information on our teacher support.

As a teacher, you will refer to these concepts, which can serve as tools when considering both familiar and unfamiliar works of literature.

- When we say imaginative literature, we are referring to the texts as literary, imaginative constructs.
- By form, we mean the main characteristics of prose, drama, and poetry, and how these contribute to meaning and effect.
- Structure refers to the organisation of a text or passage, its shape and development and how this contributes to meaning and effect, for example, the structure of a poem created by the number of lines, line length and rhyme pattern.
- Genre encompasses the characteristics of different genres: for example, tragedy, comedy and satire.
- Conventions are the rules or traditional features which are characteristic of, for example, a play (dialogue and action), or a romantic novel (narrative point of view), or sonnet (length, shape, argument, counter-argument and conclusion).
- Context is the relationship between a text and its background – historical, social and cultural.
- Audience and readership implies the interaction of texts with the reader or audience (audience in the case of drama).
- Language and style covers the variety and use of language and style in different forms, genres and periods, and for different audiences and readerships.
- Interpretation involves the appreciation and discussion of different critical readings of a text (Cambridge International A Level only).

Guided learning hours

Guided learning hours give an indication of the amount of contact time teachers need to have with learners to deliver a particular course. Our syllabuses are designed around 180 guided learning hours for Cambridge International AS Level, and around 360 guided learning hours for Cambridge International A Level.

These figures are for guidance only. The number of hours needed to gain the qualification may vary depending on local practice and the learners' previous experience of the subject.

Prior learning

We recommend that candidates who are beginning this course should have previously completed a Cambridge O Level or Cambridge IGCSE™ course in English Language, or Literature in English and should have a level of English equivalent to First Language English at IGCSE.

Progression

Cambridge International A Level English Language provides a suitable foundation for the study of English Language or related courses in higher education. Equally it is suitable for candidates intending to pursue careers or further study, or as part of a course of general education.

Teacher support

We offer a wide range of practical and innovative support to help teachers plan and deliver our programmes and qualifications confidently.

The support package for our Cambridge International AS & A Levels will help teachers integrate key concepts into their teaching, showing how they fit into the overall syllabus and suggesting ways to teach them within each topic. It also gives teachers access to a worldwide teaching community enabling them to connect with other teachers, swap ideas and share best practice.

Teaching and learning

- Support materials provide teachers with ideas and planning resources for their lessons.
- Endorsed textbooks, ebooks and digital resources are produced by leading publishers. We have quality checked these materials to make sure they provide a high level of support for teachers and learners.
- Resource lists to help support teaching, including textbooks and websites.

Exam preparation resources

- Past question papers and mark schemes so teachers can give learners the opportunity to practise answering different questions.
- Example candidate responses help teachers understand exactly what examiners are looking for.
- Principal examiner reports describing learners' overall performance on each part of the papers. The reports give insight into common misconceptions shown by learners, which teachers can address in lessons.

Cambridge International AS & A Level support for teachers

This syllabus is available to private candidates.

Detailed timetables are available from www.cie.org.uk/examsOfficers

Centres in the UK that receive government funding are advised to consult the Cambridge website www.cie.org.uk for the latest information before beginning to teach this syllabus.

Combining this with other syllabuses

Candidates can combine this syllabus in an examination series with any other Cambridge syllabus, except:

- 8695 Cambridge International AS Level Language and Literature in English.

2 Syllabus aims and assessment objectives

2.1 Syllabus aims

The syllabus aims to develop:

- a critical and informed response to texts in a range of forms, styles, contexts and audiences
- the interdependent skills of reading, analysis and research
- effective, creative, accurate and appropriate communication
- a firm foundation for further study of language and linguistics.

2.2 Assessment objectives

Candidates are assessed on their ability to:

AO1: read with understanding and analyse texts in a variety of forms

AO2: demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of English language (including, at A Level, spoken language) and its use in a variety of contexts

AO3: write clearly, accurately, creatively and effectively for different purposes/audiences, using different forms.

2.3 Relationship between assessment objectives and components

Assessment objective	Paper 1	Paper 2	Paper 3	Paper 4
AO1	✓		✓	✓
AO2	✓	✓	✓	✓
AO3	✓	✓	✓	✓

The assessment objectives for Cambridge International AS/A Level English Language carry equal weight within each component. Components are marked holistically using the mark levels printed in the specimen paper mark schemes.

For the Cambridge International AS Level qualification, each paper is worth 50% of the total marks and each question carries equal marks.

For the Cambridge International A Level qualification, each paper is worth 25% of the total marks and each question carries equal marks.

3 Syllabus content

Paper 1 Passages

- The paper contains three questions.
- Candidates answer two questions: Question 1, and either Question 2 or Question 3.
- Questions carry equal marks.

Each question is based on one passage (or thematically related shorter passages) printed in the question paper.

Texts will be drawn from a range of English language sources such as advertisements, brochures, leaflets, editorials, news stories, articles, reviews, blogs, investigative journalism, letters, podcasts, (auto) biographies, diaries, essays, scripted speech (e.g. a speech by a politician) and narrative/descriptive writing.

Each question is in two parts:

- (a) commentary on the use of language in the passage(s). [15 marks]
- (b) directed writing task based on the passage(s). [10 marks]

In all questions, candidates are required to:

- identify distinguishing features of the texts, relate them to the function and context of the writing, and organise information in their answers
- comment on aspects such as vocabulary, figurative language (e.g. use of metaphor and simile), word ordering and sentence structure, formality/informality of tone, and the communication of attitudes, bias or prejudice, structure
- write for a specific purpose and/or audience using appropriate vocabulary, tone, and style.

Candidates are advised to spend approximately 15 minutes reading the whole paper before they begin writing.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Paper 2 Writing

The paper contains two sections: Section A and Section B. There are three questions in each section.

- Candidates answer two questions: one question from Section A and one question from Section B.
- Questions carry equal marks.

Section A: Imaginative writing (i.e. imaginative/descriptive)

Candidates choose one out of three questions.

Questions require a narrative or descriptive piece of continuous writing of 600–900 words (or two shorter linked pieces of 300–450 words).

Candidates are required to show that they can write imaginatively, using language to create deliberate effects, e.g. in conveying a mood or describing a character.

Section B: Writing for an audience (i.e. discursive/argumentative)

Candidates choose one out of three questions.

Questions require a piece of continuous writing of 600–900 words (or two shorter linked pieces of 300–450 words). In each question, a specified form for the writing will be given (e.g. a magazine feature, article, review, letter to a newspaper, scripted speech, voiceover) for a specified audience.

Candidates are required to show that they can present a view clearly, construct an argument carefully, and write coherently and persuasively.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Paper 3 Text Analysis

- The paper contains two questions.
- Candidates must answer both questions.
- Questions carry equal marks.

Each question is based on text(s) printed on the question paper. One of the texts (either for Question 1 or Question 2) will be a transcription of speech/spoken material/scripted speech (e.g. a campaigning broadcast or political speech). The other texts will be drawn from forms such as advertisements, brochures, leaflets, editorials, news stories, articles, reviews, blogs, investigative journalism, letters, podcasts, (auto) biographies, diaries, essays, and narrative/descriptive writing.

In Question 1(a) candidates are required to write for a specific purpose and/or audience using appropriate vocabulary, tone, and style.

In Question 1(b) and Question 2 candidates are required to:

- identify and analyse distinguishing features of written and spoken language in the text(s), such as vocabulary, word order and the structure of sentences/utterances, figurative language (e.g. use of metaphor and simile), formality/informality of tone, and the communication of attitudes, bias or prejudice
- relate these features to the function and context of the text(s)
- organise information coherently in their answers.

Question 1 is in two parts:

- (a) directed writing task relating to the text, involving writing 120–150 words in a specific form and for a specified purpose/audience, using appropriate vocabulary, tone, and style. [10 marks]
- (b) comparison of the style and language of the candidate's writing in (a) with that of the original text. [15 marks]

Question 2 is based on two longer texts (300–400 words each). The texts will have some thematic connection, but will be from different types of source/form.

Candidates are required to compare style and language of the texts. [25 marks]

Candidates are advised to spend approximately 15 minutes studying the question paper before they begin writing.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Paper 4 Language Topics

- The paper contains three questions, each on a separate topic area.
- Candidates answer two questions.
- Questions carry equal marks.

The topic areas for examination in 2019 are:

- Topic A: Spoken language and social groups
- Topic B: English as a global language
- Topic C: Language acquisition by children and teenagers.

One essay question will be set on each topic area.

Each question will incorporate a short stimulus (such as a relevant text extract or speech transcription) relating to the topic area. Candidates will be expected to refer to this and to their own wider reading and research in answering.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Topic A: Spoken language and social groups

Relevant areas for study include:

- specific features of spoken language which are influenced by context
- the use of language to include and exclude
- group identity, power and status
- slang, jargon and other non-standard features
- idiolect/sociolect/dialect
- speech sounds and accents
- theories and studies of social variation in language, for example variations according to gender, age, occupation, social class.

Topic B: English as a global language

Relevant areas for study include:

- issues arising from differing ideas of 'world'/'global'/'international' English
- Kachru's Three Circles: inner circle, outer circle, expanding circle
- the local status of English – as an 'official' (second) language
- 'Englishes' – standard and non-standard varieties
- cultural effects – especially from, for example, British v. American English
- national government attitudes: language planning policies
- language death.

Topic C: Language acquisition by children and teenagers

Relevant areas for study include:

- the main stages of early development, for example, the holophrastic, telegraphic and post-telegraphic stages
- the different functions of young people's language, for example:
 - instrumental function: language used to fulfil a need – obtaining food, drink and comfort
 - regulatory function: asking, commanding, requesting
 - interactional function: language that develops social relationships
 - personal function: language that expresses personal opinions
 - representational function: relaying or requesting information
 - heuristic function: language that is used to explore the world and to learn and discover
 - imaginative function: using language to tell stories and create imaginary worlds

Availability

This syllabus is examined in the June and November examination series. This syllabus is also available for examination in March, for India only.

This syllabus is available to private candidates with the exception of 9695/08, Literature in English Coursework, which is not available to private candidates.

Detailed timetables are available from www.cie.org.uk/examsOfficers

Centres in the UK that receive government funding are advised to consult the Cambridge website www.cie.org.uk for the latest information before beginning to teach this syllabus.

Combining this with other syllabuses

Candidates can combine this syllabus in an examination series with any other Cambridge syllabus, except:

- 8695 Cambridge International AS Level Language and Literature in English.

2 Syllabus aims and assessment objectives

2.1 Syllabus aims

The syllabus aims to develop:

- appreciation of and informed personal response to literature in English in a range of texts in different forms, and from different periods and cultures
- the interdependent skills of reading, analysis and communication
- effective and appropriate communication
- wider reading and an understanding of how it may contribute to personal development.

2.2 Assessment objectives

Candidates must demonstrate:

AO1: The ability to respond to texts in the three main forms (Prose, Poetry and Drama) of different types and from different cultures.

AO2: An understanding of the ways in which writers' choices of form, structure and language shape meanings.

AO3: The ability to produce informed, independent opinions and judgements on literary texts.

AO4: The ability to communicate clearly the knowledge, understanding and insight appropriate for literary study.

AO5: The ability to appreciate and discuss varying opinions of literary works (Cambridge International A Level only).

2.3 Relationship between assessment objectives and components

Assessment objective	Paper 3	Paper 4	Paper 5	Paper 6	Paper 7	Component 8
AO1	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
AO2	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
AO3	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
AO4	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓
AO5			✓	✓	✓	✓

The assessment objectives for Cambridge International AS/A Level Literature in English carry equal weight within each component. Components are marked holistically using the mark levels printed in the specimen paper mark schemes.

For the Cambridge International AS Level qualification, each paper is worth 50% of the total marks and each question carries equal marks.

For the Cambridge International A Level qualification, each paper (including coursework) is worth 25% of the total marks and each question carries equal marks.

3 Syllabus content

Paper 3 Poetry and Prose

[This paper is timetabled with 8695 Paper 9 Poetry, Prose and Drama.]

The paper contains two sections: Section A: Poetry and Section B: Prose. Candidates answer two questions, each from a different section.

- An essay question and a passage-based question are set on each text.
- In all answers, candidates must show understanding of the text and an informed independent opinion; they must communicate these clearly and appropriately.

Questions will test candidates' understanding of:

- the ways in which writers' choices of form, structure and language shape meanings
- the language and style of texts
- the effective use of narrative methods
- how parts of the text relate to the work as a whole.

Texts are not allowed in the examination room.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Set texts are listed in the section Set Texts for Cambridge International AS & A Level Literature in English.

Paper 4 Drama

Candidates answer two questions on two plays.

- An essay question and a passage-based question are set on each text.
- In all answers, candidates must show understanding of the text and an informed independent opinion; they must communicate these clearly and appropriately.

Questions will test candidates' understanding of:

- the ways in which writers' choices of form, structure and language shape meanings
- the language and style of texts
- the effective use of narrative methods
- how parts of the text relate to the work as a whole
- the dramatic qualities of play texts.

Texts may not be taken into the examination room.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Set texts are listed in the section Set Texts for Cambridge International AS & A Level Literature in English.

Paper 5 Shakespeare and other pre-20th Century Texts

This paper is divided into:

Section A: Shakespeare

Section B: Other pre-20th Century Texts.

Candidates answer two questions: one question from Section A and one question from Section B.

At least one of the questions candidates answer must be a (b) passage-based question chosen from either Section A or Section B.

- An essay question and a passage-based question are set on each text.
- In all answers, candidates must show understanding of the text and an informed independent opinion; they must communicate these clearly and appropriately.

Questions will test candidates' understanding of:

- the ways in which writers' choices of form, structure and language shape meanings
- the language and style of texts
- the effective use of narrative methods
- how parts of the text relate to the work as a whole
- the dramatic qualities of play texts
- varying interpretation of texts.

Texts may not be taken into the examination room.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Set texts are listed in the section Set Texts for Cambridge International AS & A Level Literature in English.

Paper 6 1900 to the Present

Candidates answer one question on each of two different texts.

- An essay question and a passage-based question are set on each text.
- In all answers, candidates must show understanding of the text and an informed independent opinion; they must communicate these clearly and appropriately.

Questions will test candidates' understanding of:

- the ways in which writers' choices of form, structure and language shape meanings
- the language and style of texts
- the effective use of narrative methods
- how parts of the text relate to the work as a whole
- the dramatic qualities of play texts
- varying interpretation of texts.

Texts may not be taken into the examination room.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Set texts are listed in the section Set Texts for Cambridge International AS & A Level Literature in English.

Paper 7 Comment and Appreciation

Candidates answer two out of three questions.

- Candidates write a critical appreciation of previously unseen passages printed on the question paper.
- The passages cover at least two of the categories: prose, poetry and drama.
- One question may involve a comparison of passages.
- All passages are from works originally written in English.
- At least one of the passages is from a work published after 1900.

The questions will test candidates' ability to read literature critically and to demonstrate, by informed discussion and opinion, an understanding of the ways in which meaning is expressed through a writer's choices of form, structure and language. The authors of the passages are named, with either the dates of the author or the date of the passage. Knowledge of the literary or historical background, or of other works by the named author, is not expected.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Component 8 – Coursework

Component 8 is only available to centres which have submitted a full coursework proposal to Cambridge. Refer to section 3.1 of the Cambridge Handbook for instructions. This component is not available to private candidates.

- Candidates submit a folder of two essays on two texts (may include a small selection of poems or short stories); the texts must not be set for study elsewhere in the syllabus, and must be whole works, originally written in English.
- The two texts must be taken from two different forms (prose/poetry/drama).
- A minimum of 2000 and a maximum of 3000 words should be submitted in total (excluding quotations).
- The work will be internally marked and externally moderated.
- Candidates whose work is required for external moderation will be selected by Cambridge.
- The general coursework rules, published in the Cambridge Handbook, describe what is needed and give guidelines for internal (school-based) assessment of coursework.

Outline proposal forms

Proposals for topics of study are submitted to Cambridge International for approval using an outline proposal form. You should submit outline proposal forms for all candidates as this will assist each candidate with their direction of study. Proposals should not be more than 500 words, describing the proposed area of study, title and, where appropriate, list of source material to be consulted. Outline proposal forms, and the instructions for completing them, should be downloaded from the samples database at www.cambridgeinternational.org/samples. The database will ask you for the syllabus code (e.g. 9695) and your centre number, after which it will take you to the correct forms. Follow the instructions on the form itself when completing each form.

Cover sheets

A cover sheet must be completed and attached to the front of the work of each candidate. The cover sheet, and the instructions for completing it, should be downloaded from the samples database at www.cambridgeinternational.org/samples. The database will ask you for the syllabus code (e.g. 9695) and your centre number, after which it will take you to the correct form. Follow the instructions on the form itself when completing each form.

Recording and submitting candidates' marks and work

For information, dates and methods of submission of the coursework marks and sample, please refer to the samples database at www.cambridgeinternational.org/samples

Candidates' marks for 9695/08 must be recorded on the Coursework Assessment Summary Form produced by Cambridge International. The marks on this form must be identical to the marks you submit to Cambridge International.

The Coursework Assessment Summary Form and the instructions for completing them should be downloaded each year from the samples database at www.cambridgeinternational.org/samples. The database will ask you for the syllabus code (e.g. 9695) and your centre number, after which it will take you to the correct forms. Follow the instructions on the form itself when completing each form.

Internal moderation

If more than one teacher in your centre is marking internal assessments, you must make arrangements to moderate or standardise your teachers' marking so that all candidates are assessed to a common standard. Further information on the process of internal moderation can be found on the samples database at www.cambridgeinternational.org/samples

The sample you submit to Cambridge International should include examples of the marking of each teacher. You should record the internally moderated marks for all candidates on the Coursework Assessment Summary Form and submit these marks to Cambridge International according to the instructions set out in the Cambridge Handbook.

Cambridge International will externally moderate all internally assessed components. You must submit the marks of all candidates to Cambridge International.

You must also submit the marked work of a sample of candidates to Cambridge International. The samples database provides details of how the sample will be selected and how it should be submitted. The samples database can be accessed at www.cambridgeinternational.org/samples

External moderators will produce a short report for each centre with feedback on your application of the mark scheme and administration of the assessment.

Guidance on using levels-based mark schemes

Marking of the tasks should be positive, rewarding achievement where possible but clearly differentiating across the whole range of marks available.

In approaching the assessment process, the marker should look at the work and then make a 'best fit' judgement as to which level statement it fits. In practice the work does not always match one level statement precisely so a judgement may need to be made between two or more level statements.

Once a 'best fit' level statement has been identified the following guide should be used to decide on a specific mark:

- Where the candidate's work convincingly meets the level statement, the highest mark should be awarded.
- Where the candidate's work adequately meets the level statement, the most appropriate mark in the middle of the range should be awarded.
- Where the candidate's work just meets the level statement, the lowest mark should be awarded.

It is the centre's responsibility to make sure all coursework is the candidate's original work. Candidates should provide references to any source materials used, listing these at the end of the coursework.

A general discussion on the progress of coursework is a natural part of the teacher/candidate relationship, as it is for other parts of the course. In addition, if plans and first drafts are completed under teacher supervision, you can be assured of the authenticity of the final coursework.

You should not mark, correct or edit draft coursework material; candidates can certainly draft and redraft work, but you should only give brief summative comment on progress during this phase.

Avoidance of Plagiarism

Candidates should be made aware of the academic conventions governing quotation and reference to the work of others and taught to use them. This should include full reference to the publication, including date, author and page number. If it is a website, the website address and the date the website was accessed should be included.

At the time of submission, the candidate is required to sign a declaration stating that the coursework is their own work and you countersign to confirm that you believe the work is that of the candidate. Centres should use the cover sheet for this purpose. Further details can be found in the Cambridge Handbook. The coversheet must appear on or before the title page of the document.

Paper 2 Writing

The paper contains two sections: Section A and Section B. There are three questions in each section.

- Candidates answer two questions: one question from Section A and one question from Section B.
- Questions carry equal marks.

Section A: Imaginative writing (i.e. narrative/descriptive)

Candidates choose one out of three questions.

Questions require a narrative or descriptive piece of continuous writing of 600–900 words (or two shorter linked pieces of 300–450 words).

Candidates are required to show that they can write imaginatively, using language to create deliberate effects, e.g. in conveying a mood or describing a character.

Section B: Writing for an audience (i.e. discursive/argumentative)

Candidates choose one out of three questions.

Questions require a piece of continuous writing of 600–900 words (or two shorter linked pieces of 300–450 words). In each question, a specified form for the writing will be given (e.g. a magazine feature, article, review, letter to a newspaper, scripted speech, voiceover) for a specified audience.

Candidates are required to show that they can present a view clearly, construct an argument carefully, and write coherently and persuasively.

Dictionaries may not be used.

Equality and inclusion

Cambridge International Examinations has taken great care in the preparation of this syllabus and related assessment materials to avoid bias of any kind. To comply with the UK Equality Act (2010), Cambridge has designed this qualification with the aim of avoiding direct and indirect discrimination.

The standard assessment arrangements may present unnecessary barriers for candidates with disabilities or learning difficulties. Arrangements can be put in place for these candidates to enable them to access the assessments and receive recognition of their attainment. Access arrangements will not be agreed if they give candidates an unfair advantage over others or if they compromise the standards being assessed. Candidates who are unable to access the assessment of any component may be eligible to receive an award based on the parts of the assessment they have taken.

Information on access arrangements is found in the Cambridge Handbook, which can be downloaded from the website www.cie.org.uk/examsOfficers

Language

This syllabus and the associated assessment materials are available in English only.

Grading and reporting

Cambridge International A Level results are shown by one of the grades A*, A, B, C, D or E, indicating the standard achieved, A* being the highest and E the lowest. 'Ungraded' indicates that the candidate's performance fell short of the standard required for grade E. 'Ungraded' will be reported on the statement of results but not on the certificate. The letters Q (result pending), X (no result) and Y (to be issued) may also appear on the statement of results but not on the certificate.

Cambridge International AS Level results are shown by one of the grades a, b, c, d or e, indicating the standard achieved, 'a' being the highest and 'e' the lowest. 'Ungraded' indicates that the candidate's performance fell short of the standard required for grade 'e'. 'Ungraded' will be reported on the statement of results but not on the certificate. The letters Q (result pending), X (no result) and Y (to be issued) may also appear on the statement of results but not on the certificate.

If a candidate takes a Cambridge International A Level and fails to achieve grade E or higher, a Cambridge International AS Level grade will be awarded if both of the following apply:

- the components taken for the Cambridge International A Level by the candidate in that series included all the components making up a Cambridge International AS Level
- the candidate's performance on these components was sufficient to merit the award of a Cambridge International AS Level grade.

Entry option codes

To maintain the security of our examinations, we produce question papers for different areas of the world, known as 'administrative zones'. Where the entry option code has two digits, the first digit is the component number given in the syllabus. The second digit is the location code, specific to an administrative zone.

Entry option codes and instructions for making entries can be found in the Cambridge Guide to Making Entries. Other exams administration documents, including timetables and administrative instructions, can be found at www.cie.org.uk/examsOfficers
