ARTISTIC GYMNASTICS

One of the most popular Olympic sports is artistic gymnastics. Breathtaking to watch and exciting to perform, it is a very demanding sport requiring a unique combination of strength and flexibility in addition to stamina.

Artistic gymnastics has existed for 200 years but its development as a competitive sport began more than 100 years ago. Artistic gymnastics enjoys worldwide popularity, especially during the Olympics.

Gymnastics introduces people from an early age to the benefits of a healthy lifestyle, leading to a variety of opportunities of enjoyable and rewarding competitive as well as non-competitive sport. Taking part in a sport like gymnastics gives a huge amount of pleasure to participants. It also encourages self-confidence, fitness and motivation. Participation develops body awareness, strength, flexibility and co-ordination, which can be drawn upon during other physical activities and sports.

Gymnasts must also possess psychological qualities such as courage to attempt difficult moves and to compete under intense pressure. It is an excellent sport for children to pursue and the skills they learn will stay with them for a lifetime.

The diversity of the sport, varying equipment and a mix of skills and competencies has created a sport that meets the needs of a wide range of participants.

For beauty, elegance and superb displays of strength and courage, there are few sports that can match gymnastics.

If you want to see what the world looks like upside down, join a gymnastics club today!

WOMEN'S ARTISTIC GYMNASTICS

TURNING YOUR WORLD UPSIDE DOWN

v.c. ~~Gymnastics is a sport that often only catches the public eye during larger world-wide events like the summer olympics. However, gymnastics is a sport that participants practise and compete in all the year-round, ranging from pre-school level all the way up to the professional level. In each gymnastic competition, gymnasts can compete in many events, which require a wide range of skills from strength routines to elegant movements.~~

Beam

del

The balance beam is one of the main events for women's gymnastics. The beam event includes mounting, dismounting and acrobatic movements on a balance beam. Gymnasts mount the beam from the floor mat or by using a springboard. A beam routine is an exercise in precision with little room for error.

The gymnast performs a combination of acrobatic elements, leaps, jumps, steps, spins and balance elements. These can be done standing, sitting or lying on the beam. A requirement is that the gymnast uses the entire length of the beam, with routines using a series of acrobatic elements.

Floor Exercise

The floor exercise allows the gymnasts' their moment in the spotlight and is considered by many to be the most expressive piece of women's gymnastics. This is an area of impressive tumbling and also demonstrates gymnasts' personality and expression.

A floor routine, always accompanied by music, includes a combination of dance movements and sequences as well as a variety of tumbling and acrobatic elements. The whole floor area must be used in the routine with clear variances in mood, tempo and direction. Individuality, originality and artistry of presentation are the key ingredients of a great routine.

Vault

The vault is an explosive and exciting event. The gymnast runs as fast as possible in order to build momentum for her vault. The run-up is very important to help the gymnast generate the lift and height needed to perform the skill. The pre-flight is the time when the gymnast hits the springboard and makes contact with the table.

hs

A good vault should land at least 2 metres from the table and include no steps on landing.

Uneven Bars

Uneven bars provide double the challenge for gymnasts. Swinging and continuous movements are required. Routines include movements in both directions as well as above and below the bars. Elements with twists and somersaults with multiple grip changes and high flights are awarded with the highest scores.

Under the overall description of gymnastics are the individual disciplines and within these disciplines are the most popular and challenging moves. These include:

Uneven	Beam	Floor Exercise	Vault	Bars
	Side Somersault	Double Pike	Yurchenko	Gienger
	Free Cartwheel	Double Twist	Tsukahara	Jaeger
	Flick Layout	Front Arabian	Handspring	Tkachev

Maintaining a Safe Environment for Gymnasts that Get into the habit of checking the equipment is in good working order.

Equipment shd be spaced well apart and set up in a way that gymnasts do not collide with other gymnasts or equipment. // the floors of the gymnasium shd be well padded to reduce the force from landings. Mats should be placed under the equipment and properly secured at all times.

gymnasium

box Make sure there is a first aid and someone qualified to administer it when practising and competing.

Remember: Gymnastics is not a dangerous sport as long as safety precautions and good preparation is undertaken before and during each session.
